

CENTRALTONIAN

THE
SENIOR CLASS
OF
CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
AMHERST, VIRGINIA
PRESENTS

“THE CENTRALTONIAN”

FOREWORD

The year 1968, in the lives of the students at this school, especially seniors, will always be a memorable one. Exciting events plus varied activities placed deep in our hearts a never to be forgotten memory of school life at Central High. In later years, we'll find their places in our hearts. Certainly, activities during your high school days are considered as part of this remembrance.

After you've looked through our annual, we hope that the following pictures and descriptions will help you to better understand and appreciate each phase of our educational facilities and its importance to our development of mind and body. We also hope that it will prove to be an additive to the memory of the present for many years to come; thus making a more beautiful memory.

It has been said that memory is the heart's fireplace. In presenting this annual to you, we hope that it, too, has such an effect on you. May it be a reminder of the congenial surroundings and the work and play that was so important in the making of this yearbook.

DEDICATION

For Your

Mr. Hughes participates in the homecoming activities.

- Example of high character
- Helpful guidance
- Words of encouragement
- Kind consideration
- Words of wisdom
- Friendliness and love for us
- Gentlemanly qualities
- Profound courage

And for your untiring efforts to upgrade the standards of our school. But, most of all, Mr. Hughes, we dedicate our annual to you because of your sincere interest in us.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Mr. Hughes shows the certificate of accreditation for Central High School by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to Mr. E. W. Collins, Principal of Central Elementary School.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hughes, Jr. and Children

ADMINISTRATION

The Amherst County School Board

Pictured above are the members of the Amherst County School Board. They are: SEATED, left to right, Mr. John D. Smith, Temperance District; Mr. Calvin Irvin, Jr. Chairman, Madison Heights District; Mr. Tyler Fulcher, Division Superintendent; STANDING, left to right, Mr. Edgar F. Fitzgerald, Pedlar District; Mr. T. L. Wright, Court House District; and Mr. Rawley H. Watson, Jr., Elon District.

ADMINISTRATION

Central High School under the capable administration of Mr. Samuel Hughes, Jr. is staffed with nineteen competent faculty members. Since its opening in 1956, the curricular and extra-curricular programs have expanded immensely.

Having assumed the post of principal in 1960, Mr. Hughes has contributed to all areas of student and school growth. Concentrating his efforts on a meaningful and thorough instructional program, Mr. Hughes played a very significant role in the full accreditation of Central High School by the Southern Association of Schools and colleges.

Mr. Samuel Hughes, Jr.
Principal

GUIDANCE DIRECTOR

Mrs. Irene R. Mitchell
Director of Guidance

Stacks of college catalog and student files characterized the guidance office at Central High School. Mrs. Irene R. Mitchell, Guidance Counselor discussed college choices and scholarships with some seniors and job opportunities with others. Various test were discussed, administered, and results interpreted. Juniors and seniors were especially encouraged to take such tests as STEP-SCAT, PSAT and the College Boards. The Betty Crocker Homemaker Test was offered to the junior and senior girls.

Mrs. Mitchell also helped students with daily schedules, course difficulties and problems of adjustment. She planned and supervised the special spring orientation programs for new students.
